Our Mission

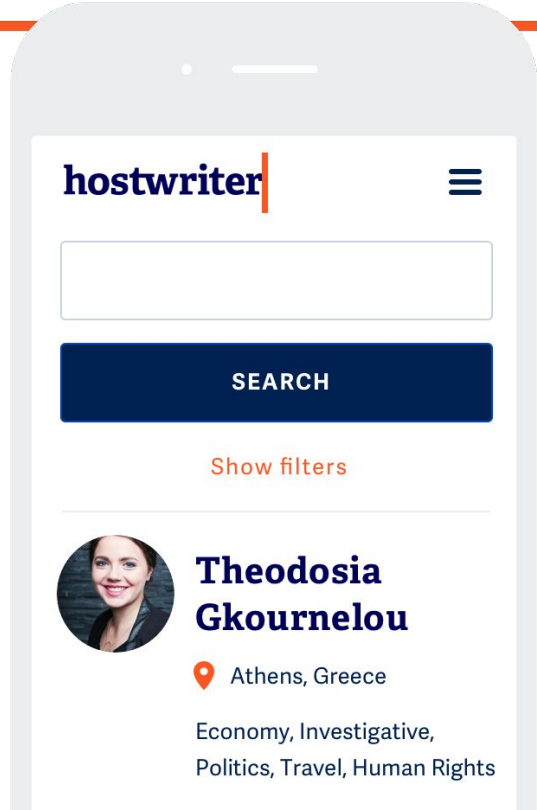

Hostwriter is an open network that helps journalists to easily collaborate across borders.

The Problem

- Migration, global climate change, international crime - in the 21st century, events have effects around the globe.
- To keep fulfilling the watchdog function of the press, journalists need to collaborate across borders.
- However, young journalists often lack the necessary contacts with international colleagues.
- Hostwriter enables better reporting by facilitating cross-border contacts between journalists worldwide.

Our Solution

We are a global network for contact and collaboration between journalists.

Founded in August 2013
(nonprofit)

Online since May 2014

4,000+ journalists in 136 countries

Couch

Stuck in a rut? Collaboration can help!

- Break out of the national echo chamber
- Shed light on international trends, conflicts, crime and trade
- Access new skills, languages and thought processes
- Apply for funding available outside of your country or for cross-border teams!

Collaborate with journalists worldwide!
