Seven independent newsrooms report on Mayor Lori Lightfoot’s first year
CHI.VOTE
Everything you need to vote on Feb. 26th
After Rahm’s ‘Smoke And Mirrors,’ Lightfoot Claims Neighborhood Opportunity Fund As Her Own

LENSE ON LIGHTFOOT: Even as developers flooded the fund as cranes dotted Chicago’s skyline, Emanuel awarded 325 grants totaling only $860,000.

Chicago Mayor Lori Lightfoot promised to spend more money on students in need. Could change be imminent?

By Yana Kunichoff | Dec 11, 2019, 6:06am CST

Lightfoot Pushing to Make TIFs More Equitable but Changes Lacking for Critics She’s Tried to Win Over

Chicago’s mayor has long-promised to reform how special tax funds are spent on private projects. Her first move is a step but isn’t big enough for some.

By Heather Cherone, The Daily Line, and Kiannah Sepeda-Miller, BGA | Mar 30, 2020 6:00 AM
Cross publishing and promotion
A look at both sides of the fight for equity in Chicago’s legal cannabis industry
By Mark Braboy, The TRiiBE
Published on April 20, 2020

Lightfoot pushing to make TIFs more equitable but changes lacking for critics she’s tried to win over
By Heather Cherone, The Daily Line, and Kiannah Sepeda-Miller, BGA
Published on March 30, 2020

South Shore neighbors blindsided as plan to turn closed school into police training center is resurrected
By Maxwell Evans, Block Club Chicago
Published on March 13, 2020

Woodlawn residents, city officials call for quick action to protect affordable housing near Obama Center
By Maxwell Evans, Block Club Chicago
Published on March 11, 2020